Enterprise Mobility Management (EMM)

EMM protects all layers of the mobile enterprise, keeping organizations secure and compliant. This cloud deployed service safeguards sensitive corporate data, shielding the network from mobile threats, and maintaining compliance with regulatory and corporate policies.

This provides IT teams with peace of mind whilst allowing executives to take their businesses mobile.

Businesses use smartphones and tablets to access the corporate network, business applications, and enterprise data. The issue that follows is that these devices are literally all over the map. Because they go where users go, they bring risk which may include the device being stolen, jailbroken or rooted and they may not adhere to passcode policy's, or have non-compliant applications installed. This jeopardizes an organisations sensitive data, exposes a network to mobile threats, and threatens compliance status.

What's required is a best-in-class secure mobile device management solution that's also simple, highly available...and helps organisations move at the speed of mobile.
